Afternoon

Tick tock, tick tock: It's time for tea

Lewis Carroll (born Charles Lutwidge Dodgson in 1832) is truly a Victorian Giant: writer, Oxford mathematician, Anglican deacon and pioneering art photographer. His enduring literary masterpiece, Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, began as a story told to Alice Liddell – one of his favourite sitters for photography – and her sisters on an afternoon's boating trip.

Our Alice in Wonderland tea features a playful and colourful selection of savouries and fancies for your enjoyment, as well as the all-important scones with jam and clotted cream.
